TASK-2, 3

I used a newer version of WebAnno called INCEpTION

Installation steps-

- Install the jar file from the repo
- Make sure ur on java version >17
- Run it via ``java -jar inception-app-*.jar``.
- Go to localhost, the webapp is hosted there.

Pre-annotation setup-

- Created a new project.
- Went into settings->Layers and created a new layer called "SRL" (doesnt matter)
- Went into settings->tagsets and created 3 different tagsets
  - PropBank roles (ARG0, ARG1, ARG2, ARG3, ARG4)

- FrameNet roles (AGENT, EXPERIENCER, GOAL, THEME, MANNER, SOURCE, LOCATION, PATIENT, TIME)
- Predicate (just a single string valued tag)
- Then settings->datasets, and imported both the eng and hindi versions of the datasets.
  - Just google translated the given sentences, copied its roman-script version, and crosschecked if its correct manually.
  - Left few words as english words only but with different spellings(its pronounced the same way) because I couldnt understand what it should translate to exactly in hindi in the given context.
- Go back to the dashboard. Go to your project->Annotations->(choose one of the datasets) and start annotating.
- Once done, checked with Propbank and FrameNet if its correct, fixed few labels.
